

Sortimo at the IAA utility vehicle trade fair in Hannover

Made to order for the mobile professional

Sortimo International and its subsidiary, Sortimo Speedwave, will be presenting a wealth of exciting new ideas and innovative developments at the IAA utility vehicle trade fair in Hannover. The in-vehicle equipment for mobile professionals of every description, i.e. for service teams, installation teams and emergency service technicians, becomes more perfect with every new development. Modular design and quick-change systems permit adaptation to different assignments and tasks. The close cooperation between Sortimo and the automobile industry is a focal point at the IAA. There is not one manufacturer of lightweight utility vehicles who is not presenting a vehicle equipped or especially developed by Sortimo on its stand.

Ideas from professionals for professionals. Numerous components that have been developed and patented by the Bavarian company Sortimo will be presented at the trade fair. One of them is Sortimo Globelyst, the third generation of in-vehicle equipment that permits individual solutions for every branch of trade and industry and for every type of vehicle. Shelves, drawers and cases can be combined with each other at varying widths and heights thanks to the new "Maxxi-Space-Frame" shelving unit. And with the "Easy Klick" quick-change system, tools, materials and entire equipment modules can be removed and simply refastened in place. Maxxi-Space-Frame also means that no hole needs to be drilled in the bodywork of the vehicle. All shelf trays are now made of aluminium so that even more weight is saved.

Sortimo lays great store by quality. At the IAA, a newly developed centre console table, new side panel tables and various side cladding elements for transit vans emphasise Sortimo's self-imposed commitment to premium quality.

And with the Speedwave outdoor modules, compact but simultaneously complete kitchens with gas cooker and sink are presented which turn a commercial vehicle into a leisure-time vehicle in a mere matter of moments.

The list of Sortimo vehicles on the stands of the exhibiting car manufacturers is extensive. There is the Transit Service Line at Ford or the Vivaro Taxi with slide-out storage platform at Opel. Fiat will exhibit the Ducato Ducati, a special workshop vehicle for motorbikes. And the VW Caddy is a mini workshop fuelled by natural gas. DaimlerChrysler has also included complete solutions for their Sprinter and Vito in their standard range. A favourite among joiners is the Iveco Daily, and foresters can now use a special Nissan Navara pick-up that transports all the necessary tools and material over difficult terrain to permit the maintenance of wood-cutting machinery.
